

April 30, 2022 (day 66)

The most critical situation remains in Kharkiv region, in the east and south of the country. This morning, the Russian military fired on the outskirts of the village of Velyka Kostromka in the Dnipropetrovsk region, as well as the village on the border with Zaporizhia and Donetsk regions.

The shelling near Kharkiv continued at night, injuring one person. Residential neighborhoods, a hospital and an industrial area were shelled. In Kharkiv, 20% of the housing stock is not subject to restoration.

In the Luhansk region, 20 houses and 2 schools caught fire the day before. It is also reported that the Russian military used the Ukrainian uniform to mislead our military. Two evacuation buses with volunteers traveling to Popasna came under fire: one disappeared (31 people), the other disappeared completely with humanitarian aid.

Donetsk region is suffering from air strikes and missile strikes, artillery shelling along the entire front line. Mines that were blown up by a tornado yesterday began to self-destruct in the Ocheretyn community. During the day, four civilians were killed in the region.

In Mariupol, in the center of the city, the occupiers set up a checkpoint and carried out filtration measures and control over the work of clearing the city of civilians. In the surviving houses, the Russian military began to settle unknown people.

The Russian military launched missile strikes on farmers' warehouses in the Dnipropetrovsk region.

In the temporarily occupied Energodar of the Zaporozhyia region, the Russians began to put into circulation Russian rubles.

Today the occupiers fired on the border guards of Chernihiv region again.
